Dear colleagues,

take the opportunity to present your Bachelor thesis, Diploma thesis, Master thesis or any other scientific work you have undertaken or are currently working on!

“Science and Research are essential to the future of every society!”

The congress aims to bring together students from Bachelor, Master, PhD as well as Diploma studies of medicine and related life sciences

Pre-courses

Share ideas and solutions with experts and colleagues on current problems facing medical research and obtain soft skills.

Keynote lectures

Leading experts will be discussing current aspects of research from a perspective that has hardly ever crossed your mind.

Panel discussion

You will have the one-time chance to witness a discussion between experts and share your own opinion in microphone rounds. Come and listen to how tomorrow's medicine is being innovated today.

Workshops

You will get to know what things like nanomedicine are actually about and at the very least you will get access to expert information on career opportunities.
